

SPRING 2025

HIGH SCHOOL PUBLIC HEALTH INTERNSHIP

Program Dates: February 5th - April 30th, 2025

DEADLINE:
January
8th, 2025

Apply with Navajo Native American Research Center for Health (NARCH) to intern with a local research organization or public health program to assist in improving the health and well-being of the community! In addition to interning, the student will also participate in our weekly 1 hour mini-lessons to learn about the Diné Education Philosophy Model in relation to the Research Process.

CLICK HERE TO APPLY: <https://forms.gle/TXuLXybYMw4pVcfV8>

Learn how public health research is being conducted!

Gain mentors from local public health programs!

Earn a stipend & add this experience to your resume!

Learn about Digital Storytelling!

REQUIREMENTS

- High School Junior or Senior
- Must commit 4 hours per week for 12 weeks
  - 3 hours with placement site dependent upon both availability
  - 1 hour Evening Weekly Mini-Lessons every Tuesday
- Access to laptop for Digital Storytelling component
- Access to internet at home to attend Zoom meetings

INTERNSHIP SITES

- Navajo Maternal & Child Health Project (1 position)
- Southwest Navajo Tobacco Education Prevention Program (1 position)
- John Hopkins' Center for Indigenous Health (1-2 positions)

For more information, feel free to email us at isep@dinecollege.edu

Shawndeena George, MPH
Senior Project Coordinator
O: (928)283-5113/Ext. 7505

Tressica Johnson, MPH
Senior Project Coordinator
O: (928)283-5113/Ext. 7522